Commission Announces That Petition Will Be Given Precedence

By HARRY WARD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Confronted with serious impairment of their financial resources and their capacity to assure a continuance of efficient and adequate service, the railroads of the country today presented a 4,500-word plea for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It has been unofficially announced on behalf of the commission that the petition would be given precedence over all other matters now pending.

Want Increased Rates

Specifically, the railroads asked to be permitted to increase all freight rates and charges, including joint rail and water rates and charges, with such adjustments in the case of coal, coke and certain other commodities as will preserve existing differentials.

Instead of horizontal increase, they asked the increase be permitted by the use of a percentage scale, and that as to coal, coke and certain other commodities, specific tariffs complying with the ordinary requirements of tariff publication be filed.

The petition said the increases will, as estimated on the basis of traffic of recent months and assuming the continuance of the present economy in transportation and maintenance expenses, yield them a net railway operating income, less than four per cent annually on the value of their property.

"Since this return will be much below the return prescribed by law, the case presented does not appear

And have you seen South Side's golf course? Not very large, not very green, but a crowd of young men can be seen playing golf there at all times of the day. They have their own golf clubs and balls and are getting quite expert at the game. As the plot on West Long avenue is no larger than an ordinary sized room of a house, there are no long drives—just conservative putting is the style.

A needed bit of paving is being done near the New Castle hospital. It is the section of South Mercer street between Phillips and Reynolds streets. The concrete has been all laid and the street will be open in a few days.

Capitol Hill Observers Believe That Era Of Gangsters Is Nearing End

New Campaign Against Gangsters Is Bringing Effective Results

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 17—The conviction of Al Capone, gangster chieftain, on a tax evasion charges, as well as for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law today drew praise on Capitol Hill for the federal government's drive against bootleggers and racketeers.

Congressional leaders voiced hearty approval of the campaign to prosecute gangsters for failing to pay income taxes, whenever evidence is lacking to convict them on other charges. The drys were particularly happy over the outcome of the Capone case, since they regarded it as removing the Chicago vice overlord from the crime picture.

The government was urged too by Senator King (D) of Utah, a rather liberal wet, to use income tax prosecutions as a means of breaking up bootleg rings and racketeering gangs. He declared the campaign

VATICAN CITY, June 17.—With the negotiations over action Cattolica with the Italian government virtually at an impasse, the Pope today was anxiously watching developments affecting the position of the Catholic church in Spain.

The Vatican secretary of state yesterday instructed the Papal Nuncio at Madrid to enter an emphatic protest against the expulsion by the New Spanish Republican government of Cardinal Segura Y. Saenz, archbishop of Toledo and primate of Spain, for opposing the Republican decree of religious toleration.

The Catholic church in Spain, prior to the issuance of the decree, had enjoyed for more than 400 years, an official monopoly of religion in Spain.

Actions Of Starr Faithfull Two Days Before Death Still Unknown

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 17.—Despite myriad rumors and the dragging in of the names of men and women who had crossed her sensation-paved path of life, the death of Young Starr Faithfull, Greenwich Village playgirl, today continued to be a national guessing game.

District Attorney Elvin Edwards admitted that until the details of her whereabouts were obtained during the hours after she left her home that authorities did not expect to be able to scale the wall of mystery.

"Those two days are still a blank page in our record," he said today. "Until we find out what she did then, we can hardly hope to make much progress toward cleaning up the case."

No Nearer Solution.

There were other indications that the officials were no nearer the solution of the supposed crime than when they found the bruised body of the beauty on the sands of Long Beach ten days ago.

"We are doing all we can to straighten things out and to get the information necessary to closing the case," said Assistant District Attorney Martin W. Littleton, Jr.

Littleton declined to comment on whether this statement meant that authorities were now giving more attention to possible suicide than the original theory of murder.

PITTSBURGH, June 17.—The Carnegie Coal Company, one of the firms most affected by the bituminous coal strike, today struck back at Gov. Gifford Pinchot who asked the operators to stop evicting striking miners from company homes.

"If you will enforce the laws," C. C. McGregor, vice president in charge of operations, wrote the governor, "and eliminate from this situation the intimidation, violance, and unlawful conduct that prevails on the highways and in and about our premises, there will be no cessation of work at our mines and few evictions will be necessary.

Defense Of Memory Of Late President Harding Stirs State And Nation

President Hoover To Rededicate Tomb Of Lincoln This Afternoon

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 17.—President Herbert Hoover arrived in Springfield at 9:15 a. m., today to rededicate the tomb of Abraham Lincoln.

When the presidental party arrived it was greeted by the presidential salute of 21 guns.

Governor Emmerson and a legislative committee met the presidential party at the train and escorted it to the Governor's mansion.

ABOARD PRESIDENT HOOVER'S TRAIN, EN-ROUTE TO SPRINGFIELD Ill., June 17—From Marion, where he wrote a new chapter in American history by his vigorous defense of the memory of Warren G. Harding, President Hoover turned today to the tomb of another President—that of Abraham Lincoln in Springfield.

There, this afternoon, Mr. Hoover will rededicate the tomb of the great emancipator. In so doing he will retrace the footsteps of Ulysses S. Grant, who made the original dedication some 57 years ago.

Sense of Duty Well Performed.

The president turned westward from Marion and its poignant memories with a sense of duty well performed. Together with his predecessor, Calvin Coolidge, Mr. Hoover proclaimed to the world his deep-seated belief in the integrity of Warren G. Harding and his biting scorn of those whom he denounced for having "betrayed" him.

It was a speech that immensely pleased the friends of the late president, and, in fact, Ohio generally. For years the loyal friends of the 29th president have smarted under the flood of inuendo and insinuation concerning the Harding administration.

Today, for the first time since his

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 17.—Mighty glad to see Mr. Hoover and Mr. Coolidge finally (after years of delay) go out and dedicate the Harding memorial.

Too bad they waited till Ohio looked politically doubtful, and the odd thing about it is that they both owe their presidency to this man's death. If he had lived one would have retired as an ex-cabinet member and the other as just another ex-vice president.

They ought to have been just standing waiting for it to be finished in order to do their part for there was certainly nothing to be ashamed of in being there.

Harding was the most human of any of our late presidents; there was more of the real "every day man" in him. If he had a weakness it was in man that don't do that then there is something the matter with him.

Sho 'nuff betrayed by friendship is not a bad memorial to leave.

Yours,

Will Rogers.

Valuable Liner Reported Afire

Liner Bermuda, Worth $8,000,000, Reported Burning At Port In Bermuda

NO PASSENGERS ARE ON BOARD

(International News Service)

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 17.—Spreading with tremendous speed, fire today threatened total destruction to the Furness liner Bermuda, a vessel of 19,086 tons and one of the largest motor ships in the world.

With the blaze apparently completely out of control, it appeared the liner would be a total loss. It was constructed only four years ago at a cost of almost $8,000,000.

Scores of firemen and volunteer workers were overcome by the mountains of smoke billowing from the gutted liner. Many were taken to hospitals for treatment, but no serious casualties were reported.

The fire broke out shortly after dawn in the super-structure of the vessel. Aided by a strong wind, the flames swiftly ate downward into the ship's vitals, destroying machinery designed to pump water in the event of just such a disaster.

The crew of the vessel were asleep in their bunks when the fire broke out. They turned out and led the work of fire-fighting, but their efforts were fruitless.

Change Plans Of Meetings On Store Methods

Evening Meetings Will Be Discontinued In Favor Of Personal Conferences

MANY EMPLOYES AT MEETING TUESDAY

Interest is continuing to grow in the business improvement campaign now under way here under the auspices of the Better Business bureau of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

Last evening there were 106 employes and store executives in attendance at the conference held in the P. & O. lecture rooms, and those present displayed a deep interest in the discussion which followed the talk of L. J. Anderson, Chicago expert, who is here conducting these conferences.

A change in plans has been announced by those in charge of these meetings. Two evening group meetings had been planned for tonight and Thursday, but these have been definitely canceled in favor of a plan which will call together representatives from various firms engaged in the same line of business.

This was deemed advisable in view of the fact that different methods are used by those engaged in different lines of business.

Private consultations have also been arranged for employes of particular stores, who have requested them.

Mr. Anderson will be here for the balance of the week and will conduct a number of group meetings in the meantime.

tragic death, eight years ago, the Ohio president stood vindicated by the words of one who was in his cabinet and ultimately was his successor in the White House. In proclaiming his own faith in and admiration for President Harding, Mr. Hoover wrote an indelible page in American history.

Ohio is Pleased.

There were tears, frank and unashamed, in the eyes of many men who were cronies of President Hardings' when Mr. Hoover finished his address. Charles G. Dawes, former vice-president, now ambassador to the court of St. James, was observed to wipe away some fugitive moisture from his eyes as first Mr. Coolidge and then Mr. Hoover extolled the personal qualities of their predecessor.

Harry M. Daugherty, who was campaign manager for the late president, and later attorney general in his cabinet, left the platform with the observation that: "I have waited eight years for this day."

The general satisfaction with which Ohio received the speech was reflected later in Columbus, where Mr. Hoover held a reception and reviewed the G. A. R. parade. Many Ohioans, Democrat as well as Republican, congratulated the president upon his speech, and praised him for his vigorous defense of the memory of Mr. Harding.

From Columbus the president travelled back through Indiana today to Springfield, where he will arrive this morning. He will be met at the station by Gov. L. L. Emerson, and a committee. Work Is Started On Meadville To Erie Toll Cable

Bell Telephone Company To Spend $105,000 To Complete Cable Project

Construction of a stormproof aerial and underground cable between Meadville and Erie has been begun by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, with which it is associated.

In making this announcement today, W. R. Bingham, district manager here, said that the project would necessitate an expenditure of more than $105,000 by the Bell of Pennsylvania.

Work on a similar cable between Meadville and New Castle has been in progress for some time. When this project and the Meadville-Erie cable are completed, they will form the final links in a lead-sheathed cable line extending between Pittsburgh and Erie, which will be used for the transmission of out-of-town calls.

The Meadville-Erie job calls for the construction of nearly 205,000 feet of cable, containing 304 tiny pairs of wires, and the setting of 1,421 poles. Approximately 4,700 feet of conduit to house the underground sections of cable, and 16 manholes also are to be built.

The project is scheduled for completion by December, 1932.

would tend to wipe out criminal gangs by confining their leaders to federal jails.

Glad to See Action

"I have always maintained, it should be a part of prohibition enforcement to discover who gets the large receipts of the illicit liquor traffic," said King. "Then, the department of justice should cooperate with the tax collecting agencies to see whether these gangsters have paid their income taxes. I have advocated this plan for years as a means of stamping out lawlessness by jailing the leaders.

"I am glad to see the government moving against Al Capone, because he is a symboi of lawlessness. I am glad they prepared so tight a case that he saw fit to enter a plea of guilty.

"I believe the enforcement of the revenue laws against Capone and all others of his ilk who fail to make proper returns—particularly those who engage in illicit traffic—will do much to break up these gangs. I heartily approve of it."

King also endorsed the labor department's drive to deport alien criminals. He warned, however that this power should not be abused to deport aliens on trivial charges, who have come to this country to make their homes.

"Aliens, who are criminals, should be deported" said King. 'But this power should not be used in a vindicative manner. It should be exercised only against the racketeering elements, who defy our constitution on our laws."

Senator Davis (R) of Pennsylvania, former secretary of labor, also endorsed the income tax drive. He agreed with King that income tax prosecutors could be used to put gang leaders in jail, with the result that their followings would disintegrate. He likewise pointed out the use of the deportation power—exercised during his own administration of the labor department—to eradicate alien criminals by returning them to their native countries.

Young Physician Removes Tonsils From Own Throat

Dr. Charles T. Meachem, Young Interne, Operates Upon Himself

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Dr. Charles T. Meachem, 28-year old 1930 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Medical school, and an interne of Chestnut Hill hospital, today was recuperating after removing his own tonsils.

Friends of the youthful physician revealed the operation although Dr. Meachem had kept it a secret since Wednesday.

The young surgeon's tonsil's began bothering him some time ago and he decided to be his own surgeon. To do this he practiced using the instruments necessary for the operations in front of a group of mirrors. After several weeks practice he decided he was ready to operate.

Last Wednesday he rigged up a disc mirror which he adjusted over his eye to reflect light into a second mirror on the wall which in turn lighted up the interior of his mouth and throat. Then he injected novocaine into the affected tonsils and set to work.

Operation Successful

He extracted the left tonsil with ease experiencing no difficulty as he used his right hand. However, to extract the right one he had to use his left hand. This proved a much more difficult task, but in the end he succeeded. However, he called in Dr. Fred Traganza, another member of the hospital staff, to be sure everything was in order.

RAILROADS ASK RIGHT TO RAISE FREIGHT RATES

to be one for the determination of maximum reasonable rates by the commission," the petition said.

Ask Investigation

"If the existing emergency has been made clear to the commission, time does not permit the exercise of the power to determine, otherwise than from a revenue standpoint, the reasonableness of the proposed schedule of rates as a condition precedent to permitting them to become effective."

Accordingly, the railroads recommended the investigation to be made by the commission upon the carriers' "statement of fact" and that application should be of a limited character and should be for the purpose of reaching a determination as to whether the general schedules of rates proposed should be permitted to become effective without suspension.

The petition said that upon the curtailment of business during 1929, it was apparent there were two financial policies which might be adopted. The first was a drastic retrenchment in operating and capital expenditures in anticipation of a substantial decline in traffic.

Maintained Program

The second was a continuance of a normal program of operating and capital expenditures through a period of depression in anticipation of a return to normal traffic conditions.

"The first policy was open to the criticism that it would tend to intensify the business depression," the petition said. "It meant the furlough of wage earners, depriving them of their purchasing power, and the immediate curtailment of purchases of materials and supplies.

"The second policy was open to the criticism from the standpoint of economical management of the carriers that it would continue in employment wage earners who were not actually needed to conduct the diminishing volume of transportation."

The railroads chose the second policy.

"They adhered to it as long as it could be justified from the standpoint of the trust reposed by the railroad security holders in the managements of the carriers who were administering property which, though devoted to public use, is nevertheless private property," the petition said.

The railroads said that capital expenditures amounting to $598,000,000 were made last year and that they also continued in employment wage earners whose services were not necessary.

Frank Borich, National Secretary of the N. M. U., headed a committee that called on the Washington county commissioners, who told them there was nothing they could do.

"All right," said Borich to the commissioners, "we will report back to our people and we will come back again, but when we come back we will have not 10,000 or 15,000 with us. We will have 50,000."

Plan Warfare On "Gas" Bootlegger

Special Unit Of Revenue Patrolmen Will Watch For Gasoline Bootleggers

HIGHWAY PATROL TO BE UTILIZED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 17.—Gasoline "bootleggers" today faced a new problem and one destined to give them considerable worry.

To halt the flow of "bootleg" gas into Pennsylvania from other states, the State Revenue department will organize a special unit of revenue patrolmen within the State Highway patrol, Dr. Clyde L. King, secretary of revenue, announced here. The revenue patrol will police the borders of the state and will operate an armed cutter on the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers, working soley against "gas runners".

Special Unit

"In organizing a special unit of revenue patrolmen," Dr. King said, "the department has a two-fold purpose. The first is to provide a mobile unit of efficient men to stop gasoline bootlegging. The second is to do this without weakening the very important work for which the highway patrol was organized.

"Heretofore, it has been necessary to draft men from the highway patrol in the war against bootleggers of gasoline. The new unit will operate directly under the secretary of revenue and A. P. Delahunt, commissioner of the bureau of liquid fuel tax."

Members of the new unit, Dr. King said, will be given a special course of training at the highway patron school.

Only experienced men will be used in the unit, he said, vacancies to be filled from the ranks of the present highway patrol force.

A full evening's entertainment, with peppy games as the chief diversion, was carefully managed by the Highland folk under the general direction of Mrs. Hazel Brenneman. The evening's affair was sponsored by the three Young People's Christian Union societies.

Members of the three societies have met together in union meetings in July and August for the past several years, and the social event of last night was a preliminary starter for this summer's schedule.

The retiring president, Miss Harriet Ewing presided over the business meeting.

Announcement was made that a complete program of subjects and leaders will be announced by the newly-appointed program committee within the next few days. Meetings commence Sunday, July 5.

With Mrs. Hazel Brenneman directing the games and a group of others handling the refreshment part of the entertainment, the Highland Y. P. C. U. went its limit to provide a good time for their visitors. Attractive decorations had been hung about the social room for the occasion.

Members who prepared and served the lunch later in the evening were the Misses Frances Turner, Josephine Allen, Elizabeth Banks, Mary Patterson, Zellas Patterson and Russell Johnston. Others assisted.

Special guests for the evening were Miss Margaret Brenner, president of the executive committee of the Y. P. C. U. in the Beaver Valley presbytery, and her sister, Alberta, from Rose Stop; Dr. A. J. Randles of the Second church, Dr. C. J. Williamson of the Highland church and a number of others.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S ADDRESS AT MARION, OHIO

LITTLE need be added to the speech of President Herbert Hoover at Marion, Ohio, yesterday, in discussing the life and administration of the late President Warren G. Harding.

Dedication of the memorial to Harding was delayed for several years, apparently due to reluctance of those in high places to make the traditional dedication address, because of the scandal in the Harding administration.

Fittingly President Herbert Hoover said among other things yesterday:

I was one of those who accompanied the late president on his fateful trip across the continent and to Alaska. He had wished to learn from the people their needs and to translate to them his own aspirations. Those who were his companions on that journey realized full well that he had overstrained even his robust strength in the gigantic task which confronted him during the previous two years.

And we came also to know that here was a man whose soul was being seared by a great disillusionment.

We saw him gradually weaken not only from physical exhaustion but from mental anxiety.

Warren Harding had a dim realization that he had been betrayed by a few of the men whom he had trusted, by men whom he had believed were his devoted friends. It was later proved in the courts of the land that these men had betrayed not alone the friendship and trust of their stanch and loyal friend but they had betrayed their country. That was the tragedy of the life of Warren Harding.

There are disloyalties and there are crimes which shock our sensibilities, which may bring suffering upon those who are touched by their immediate results. But there is no disloyalty and no crime in all the category of human weaknesses which compares with the failure of probity in the conduct of public trust. Monetary loss or even the shock to moral sensibilities is perhaps a passing thing, but the breaking down of the faith of a people in the honesty of their government and in the integrity of their institutions, the lowering of respect for the standards of honor which prevail in high places, are crimes for which punishment can never atone.

Warren Harding gave his life in worthy accomplishment for his country. He was a man of delicate sense of honor, of sympathetic heart, of transcendent gentleness of soul—who reached out for friendship, who gave of it loyally and generously in his every thought and deed. He was a man of passionate patriotism. He was a man of deep religious feeling. He was devoted to his fellow men.

A "BREAK" FOR PEDESTRIAN

Every dog has his day, even the pedestrian, who is becoming tired of being treated like a dog by the man behind the wheel and by the men behind the traffic laws.

California will usher in the "day" of the pedestrian on August 14, when there will become operative a law intended to keep the pedestrian in his place and to make him secure in that place. Under this law, the person on foot crossing within a regularly defined cross-walk in obedience to established traffic signals has the right of way and motorists are responsible for his safety. Crossing a street at points other than those designated for that purpose, is at the pedestrian's own risk.

This is fair, just and reasonable legislation. There is a right of way for foot traffic just as there is for vehicular traffic and the law should recognize both. Moreover, the rights of both should be protected.

There have been encroachments by both sides. Drivers crowd and rush pedestrians and pedestrians cross the streets promiscuously and ignore all lights and signals with menace to themselves as well as to others.

California's new law is directed at the jaywalker as well as at the juggernaut motorist.

NOBODY READS THEM

Why do newspapers print editorials? The editor is told that nobody reads them and that the day is past when newspapers can mold public opinion.

No. Nobody reads the editorials unless they attribute to Shakespeare a Biblical quotation.

Unless they "exhibit clearly the colossal ignorance of your editorial writer" upon the subject at hand.

Unless they display "a spirit of unfairness scarcely in keeping with the fine tradition of your paper."

Unless they contain facts "so palpably false" that a retraction is demanded at once.

Unless they are so biased that people write in to say they have stopped reading them, indicating that at some previous time they were read.

Unless they have stated the case so clearly, so accurately, so fairly and so entirely in keeping with the opinion of the reader that he is provoked to offer his heartfelt congratulations.

Unless they contain a typographical error, corrected after the first few copies giving unusual flavor to an innocent sentence, which makes the whole town smile.

No. Nobody reads the editorials!

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

"Where's the car, dad?" asked the son of an absent-minded professor.

"Why, dear me, I really don't know," he said, scratching his head in an effort to recall the past. "Did I take it out?"

"You certainly did. You drove it down town this morning."

"Well, now, that is quite remarkable," said the professor. "I remember now that after I got out and I turned 'round to thank the gentleman who had given me the lift and wondered where he had gone!"

There's a Comic Spirit
It's Always Overhead
It Laughs at You and Me

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I wonder if that Professor Piccard who floated around, ten miles above the Alps in an aluminum ball, saw anything but the stars, felt anything but his own discomfort. I wonder if he saw the Comic Spirit peeking through the windows of his curious cage.

I've heard that the Comic Spirit it up there, somewhere, humorously enjoying men. I read about him once in a book. The book said:

"If you believe that our civilization is founded in common sense, you will, when comtemplating men, discern a Spirit overhead: not more heavenly than the light flashed upward from the glassy surfaces, but luminous and watchful never shooting beyond them, nor lagging in the rear: so closely attached to them that it may be taken for a slavish reflex, until its feautres are studied. It has the sage's brow, and the sunny malice of a faun lurks at the corners of the half-closed lips drawn in an idle weariness of half tension. That slim feasting smile, shaped like the long-bow, was once a big round satyr's laugh, that flung up the brows like a fortress lifted by gunpowder.

"The laugh will come again, but it will be of the order of the smile, finely tempered, showing sunlight of the mind, mental richness rather than noisy enormity. Its common aspect is one of unsolicitous observation, as if surveying a full field and having leisure to dart on its chosen morsels without any fluttering eagerness.

Men's future upon earth does not attract it: their honesty and shapliness in the present does: and whenever they wax out of proportion, overblown, affected, pretentious, bombastical, hypocritical, pedantic, fantastically delicate: whenever it sees them self-deceived or hoodwinked given to run riot in idolatries, drifting into vanities, congregating in absurdities, planning short-sightedly, plotting dementedly: whenever they are at variance with their professions and violate the unwritten but perceptible laws binding them in consideration one to another: whenever they offend sound reason, fair justice: are false in humility or mined with conceit, individually, or in the bulk—the Spirit overhead will look humanely malign and cast an oblique light on them, followed by volleys of silvery laughter. That is the Comic Spirit."

George Meredith wrote that. He was a famous novelist in his day, though his novels are barely read now. . .He was so wise, in theory that he could write such understanding paragraphs. But in fact, he was so snobbish that he did not want people to know his father was a tailor. He was ashamed of his humble father. . .And whenever the Comic Spirit thought of George Meredith he laughed his silver laughter.

BILL'S GONE BACK TO WORK

Bill's gone back to work, an' we
Are proud of him as we can be.
Taken off his coat, an' rolled
Up his sleeves, like days of old,
Before the crazy years began
When money came to any man.

When the slump came Bill was sad
Coz it took most all he had,
An' he wrote: "They've got me down!
Guess my goose is cooked up brown!"
Sat around awhile to learn
If his luck was going to turn.
When his stocks an' bonds were gone
Bill just slapped a mortgage on
That big house of his, an' said
"Better times are just ahead."
Bent on dodgin' work till now,
Thinkin' he'd forgotten how.

"Livin' simple," now he writes,
"Workin' days an' sleepin' nights,
Chucked my foolish pride away,
Turned my back on pleasure gay;
Lost a fortune large an' round,
But my self-respect I've found."

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

WANT TO BE SINGLE AGAIN?

Do you regret that you married?

Do you think of the freedom you enjoyed—of the opportunities for good times in which you now can take no part?

Because you have others to consider and family expenses are large and you have not so much money to spend upon personal pleasures, do you regret?

If your married life is a failure are you not to blame?

Have you the right sort of feeling for wife and children if you can go regretting family responsibilities.

You are not fulfilling your duties as a husband and father.

If you are the right sort you would not care to indulge in many of the things which interested you as a young unmarried man.

You have grown up and your mind should have grown also with the years.

Interest in your home and family should compensate you for the privileges you miss that were a part of your life as a bachelor.

If you are the right sort of man you will find your greatest joy in giving the members of your family a happy time.

Their enjoyment will recompense you for what you deny yourself.

You ought to be ashamed of the sort of character that could voice a wish to be single again.

I always have a feeling of sorrow when I hear of a coming marriage. Provided, of course, the man in the case is decent. A brute, whether low-born or self-made, will boss his house and his wife and keep his freedom. But he will do it by treating his wife worse than Alabama treats convicts, and in that case I feel sorry for her. A man who isn't a brute—who has a conscience and some knowledge of chivalry and a few of the instincts of a gentleman—is wholly and finally sunk when he says "yes" to the preacher. From that moment he ceases to be an individual and becomes an echo. Gentlemanly instincts make him polite when his wife isn't; chivalry prompts him to let her run the works even when he knows the result will be disastrous; and his conscience keeps him from wringing her neck or running away. He doesn't count, except as the source of revenue. His wife plans life and he meekly follows where she leads—footing the bills without complaint, licked and silent, happy if he can avoid doing or saying anything that will prompt her to raise hell with him. Of course it's a pleasant arrangement if the two are in love—no matter how dowdy and dumb she is, or how stupid and asinine he is—but unfortunately the married people who remain in love are only one set in ten. The others merely endure one another because they haven't the courage or energy to make a change, or because they really enjoy their home and are willing to suffer much to preserve it. It's an old old tragedy, and nothing I can say will mend matters, but I feel sorry for the goofs who enact it again—especially the poor suckers who are merely trading their freedom for the right to provide somebody else with spending money.

Wheat Crop And Farm Board Arouse Interest Of Nation

Production In This Country And Canada Estimated, While Renewed Interest In Work Of Cooperatives Is Shown As Government Purchases Are Suspended

Prospects for the farmers of the United States are uppermost in the public mind as developments affecting the wheat market come in rapid succession. Estimates of crops in this country and Canada are studied, while the effect of abandonment of buying by the Farm Board is a subject of discussion, and cooperatives are declared to be the most potent friends of the producers.

"A bullish surprise to the market," is the comment of the WALL STREET JOURNAL on the official crop report on winter and spring wheat conditions as of June 1. That paper advises that "the report can be construed as indicating a total wheat crop, 60,000,000 bushels less than the average of the private crop experts' estimates a week ago." The Journal states: "The large carryover of a year ago will undoubtedly be considerably exceeded this year, so on paper today, our wheat supply is actually larger than in 1930. There are other things, however, that give the report a decidedly bullish hue. Condition of the spring wheat crop was reported at 67.9, compared with 85.7 a year ago and a ten-year average of 86.2. The present figure is the lowest ever reported, and is a result of drought. There is an absence of subsoil moisture and unless there are frequent rains through the summer the crop will not be able to stand up. Also, the Canadian government report on spring wheat is the lowest recorded and suggests a crop of 285,000,000 bushels or 95,000,000 less than the production of 1930. Rains have been reported in parts of western Canada, but the situation there is still uncertain. Even with favorable weather from now until harvest, the hard spring wheat production of the two countries will be much below normal."

Discussing the tendencies in the Southwest, the HOUSTON CHRONICLE declares: "Government reports indicate that the wheat production of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas this year will be close to 370,000,000 bushels. About June 20 the harvest will get under way in Texas, the area visited by the combines gradually extending northward. Last season the product of the Southwest was about 41,000,000 bushels less. While Canada is finding its output curtailed, while the northern part of the United States finds its wheat dry and needing moisture, the Southwest's production booms. A big crop even at a low price appeals to the farmers of this section who can raise wheat so much more cheaply than their Canadian cousins. But every time they get a good price, they increase their acreage and that way lies ruin. If the tendency to grow bigger and better wheat crops in the Southwest persists, we will have to establish a national wheat week as well as a national cotton week."

Speaking of those who "have been steadily hoping that the farmers would curtail acreage sufficiently to reduce the surplus stocks that have both plagued the Farm Board and demoralized a large number of farmers for a long period," the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL concludes: "There is still time for the picture to change further, either for better or for worse. What the ultimate results for this season's harvest may be are conjectural now, and will be for several weeks to come." The SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION thinks: "There is some reason for hopefulness in the prospects of a somewhat reduced spring wheat crop in this country and crops considerably below the average in some of the other countries. It has been remarked that about the only thing that could save the Farm Board from its commitments is a general failure of the world's wheat crop. There are indications that the world crop may not be up to last year but few indications that conditions will be such as to enable the Farm Board to dispose of its surplus except at a considerable loss. Meantime storage is said to be costing about $3,000,000 a month."

In connection with the forecasts for the season, there is discussion of the results of the work of the Federal Farm Board as it withdraws from purchases of the grain. The DES MOINES REGISTER, indorsing a statement by Sam H. Thompson of the board in condemnation of "loose talk about the board's activities in encouraging the formation of farmers' cooperative marketing organizations," says: "It is silly to say that this work represents an attempt to put the government in business. It is the farmers who go into business. The government endeavors to help them do it. * * * Over the farm board's buying and selling of wheat, which has been discontinued, there was some room for disagreement, or at least for misunderstanding and peevishness. But when anyone condemns the principal work of the board—that of sponsoring co-operative marketing—he nearly always can be set down as one who has a personal ax to grind. This work is not a partisan or political activity; it is a simple effort of proved value to help the farmer to his feet economically. It should be supported as such."

"The farmer is not to be led into cooperative cultivation, but into marketing, in place of being wholly at the mercy of extraneous marketing machinery and organization," declares the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL, with the belief that "the farm agitation started more than ten years ago as a marketing idea, and it ends that way in the present Federal Farm Marketing Act." The Capital quotes Mr. Thompson to the effect that "the cooperative program is making substantial progress and growing as rapidly as we might reasonably expect," and adds: "The cooperatives are doing business. They have borrowed 200 million dollars, and paid back half of it." In further indorsement of the Federal Board, the Topeka editor remarks: "With the definite close of the Farm Board's marketing operations in wheat through the Grain Stabilization Corporation, the market plunged 13 cents, which is testimony of the first order to the effect of the board's policy."

Statements by Charles C. Teague, resigning as vice chairman of the Farm Board, are quoted by the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, particularly his assertion that the board "has enabled cooperative farm associations to persist," and that "otherwise they would have gone to the wall." The Evening News continues: "While conceding the risks have been great, and not denying there may be ultimate heavy loss of federal money, he is convinced the attempt has been worth the cost. What Mr. Teague says is true. This country has spent $500,000,000 in a way that may not have been econo-

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

PRESIDIO COUNTY, TEXAS

Two hundred miles southeast of El Paso is the city of Marfa. Perhaps you have never noticed that there was such a town in Texas. Neither had we but we found that it was the countyseat of Presidio County and possessed a Court House that looked like the State Capitol building. It also has a hotel and a real hotel. They call the hotel "El Paisano" (The Countryman) and they mean it.

Long before we reached Marfa we were impressed with the magnificent herds of Hereford cattle grazing on vast expanses of green veldt. For more than a hundred miles out of Van Horn the Highway ran in long tangent lines across a mesa elevated 4,500 feet above sea level. There was not a tree to be seen except about the ranch houses and ranch windmills. Everywhere else was green grass and white faced cattle. It was plain what the people there did for a living.

At Marfa we found that the Hereford cattle of Presidio County, Texas, have no equal in the world, in the Hereford world, to be exact. At the County Fair last Fall the cattlemen of the county had what they call in the West "A Buyer's and Feeder's Market". Buyers and Feeders from eleven States were present and there were sold at auction 4,000 head of prize Herefords at the highest price Presidio County had ever known. In June, this month, they hold a simon pure cattle exhibition for two days, not a single head to be sold and the hotel clerk said that every room in the hotel had been taken and they did not know just what they were going to do. "But Presidio County will take care of all comers, you may be sure of that," she said in that soft spoken dialect of the Texan.

In the Fall at the Fair this vigorous people expect to have Buyers and Feeders from even more than eleven States.

What is the matter with some of the rest of the country?

Dr. Rainey Will Be President Of Bucknell College

Youthful President Of Franklin College, Indiana, Accepts Post

(International News Service)

LEWISBURG, Pa., June 17.— Dr. Homer P. Rainey, youthful president of Franklin College, Franklin, Ind., has accepted the presidency of Bucknell University here, it was announced by the Board of Trustees of Bucknell.

Dr. Rainey, who will take over his new post in the fall, succeeds Dr. Emory William Hunt, who retired as president of the university a week ago today.

The new Bucknell head, who has been president of Franklin for four years, attracted wide attention at the time of his election to the presidency of the Indiana school because he was then the youngest college president in the country.

mically sound, still it met an emergency. It saved thousands of farmers from ruin and kept many banks in the grain belt from going to the wall with consequences no one likes to consider. A loss has got to be pocketed, but it was worth all it cost. A solution of the wheat problem has not been found yet, but the agricultural industry will find one because it has to."

Recognizing the results achieved by the board in the fact that "domestic prices were maintained steadily at the fixed level," the KANSAS CITY TIMES concludes: "Low prices for the coming crop undoubtedly will result in sharp acreage reduction in this country, but that factor cannot become effective until next fall. Poor condition of Canadian wheat this summer should be a strengthening influence, and crop failures elsewhere in the world are a possibility. But as the farm board ends its two years of stabilization activities it faces the biggest job of all, the task of disposing of the remains of the most gigantic grain operation in history. Not until this is accomplished will the country be in a position to weigh gains and losses, and to determine the net results of the government's great experiment in temporary price-fixing."

"Farm relief legislation should be reopened at the next session of Congress," advises the ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS. "Important proof has been given that marketing control is feasible in a manner to extend to agriculture benefits analogous to those received by industry through the protective tariff. It remains for Congress to take advantage of the lessons of this experience."

AIR YARN

The friend of a New York newspaper woman flew over Long Island with one of the most famous of the American aviatrices. At short intervals, as she explains it, the plane shimmied up and down with an effect that caused the lone cabin passenger to wish that she had led a better life.

At the end of the unsteady ride the pilot asked her guest if she had seen a certain country club, a certain estate and other points of interest.

"Oh, I'm so sorry," she said, when told that her passenger had seen practically nothing. "It's strange, though, that you missed so much. Every time we passed something interesting, I jiggled the plane to call your attention to it."

INFANTS' PROGRESS

Several years ago, simple division and fraction marked the limits of the nine-year-old child's mind. Today, the rule of eleven ranks equally in importance.

Encouraged by some parents who have lofty social ambitions and are confident that the playing of a good game of bridge will assure their offspring's future popularity—and by other parents and teachers who consider the game excellent mental and ethical training—bridge lessons have become as integral a part of the nine and ten-year-old child's life as dancing and French lessons.

In other words, London Bridge has given way to contract.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKED

A scenario writer who didn't make good as a Hollywood-worker tells of trying for months to sell a scenario. It happened that George Arliss heard an outline of the story and saw in it possibilities.

One day when the writer was knee-deep in gloom his telephone rang.

"This is George Arliss talking—"

"Yeah? Whoinell d'you think you're kiddin'?"

"But my dear fellow, this really is George Arliss—"

"Well," Mr. Arliss," replied the writer, "I hope you're more of an athlete than I think you are. You'll have to be to follow my advice, which is this——"

And having advised Mr. Arliss, the writer banged up the phone.

They say now that when he wakes up in the night and thinks of what a North American side show he made of himself, the scenario writer buries his face in his pillow and moans.

Personally, I don't believe the story; but that's the way it was told to me.

State School Head Receives Good Pay

Only Two Other States Pay Secretary Of Education More Than Pennsylvania

(By ARTHUR C. WIMER, Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 17.—Pennsylvania pays its chief school officer more than twice as much as the average chief state school official of the country receives and more than 45 of the 48 states pay, the National Education Association finds.

The annual salary of the chief state school officer of Pennsylvania totals $12,000, the Association reports. Such officials in the country as a whole receive an average of $5,000, the lowest annual salary, $1,800 being paid in South Dakota, and the highest, $15,000 being paid in New York and New Jersey.

Pennsylvania follows New York and New Jersey with its annual salary of $12,000.

The prevailing method of selecting chief state school officers in the country is by popular election. Pennsylvania, however, is one of the six states in which such officials are named by the Governor.

Pinchot Prunes Appropriations

Governor Makes Progress In Cutting Expenses To Conform With Budget

Refinancing Of Delaware River Bridge May Make Big Sum Available

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, June 17.—Governor Pinchot making some progress in cutting appropriation bills left on his desk by the 1931 General Assembly to within the amount of money which budget officials estimate will be available during the 1931-33 biennium. Last week the governor's office announced that bills passed by the legislature called for the appropriation of $214,374,709 from the general fund.

When the budget was presented in February recommendations were made for expenditures amounting to $190,248,100 which made an excess of $24,126,608 over estimates.

Since the budget was given the legislature the administration has had the benefit of actual collections for the first five months of this year instead of estimates. The receipts for that period, which was the closing months of the biennium, were higher than anticipated.

Cuts in excess of $5,000,000 have been made to date by the governor in acting on appropriation bills. He indicated last week that with receipts somewhat higher than anticipated, the budget allowances may be increased in some instances.

Appropriation bills remaining to be acted on carry grants of approximately $19,000,000.

Create Bridge Commission

He reduced the general appropriation bill by $2,776,050 and the institutional construction bill by $2,270,000. Those two measures accounted for most of the reductions made by the governor. Several bills carrying small appropriations have been vetoed.

Creation of a new joint commission between Pennsylvania and New Jersey may make possible the increase of general fund revenues for this biennium by many millions. This commission is given authority to issue revenue bonds to refinance the Philadelphia- Camden bridge over the Delaware river.

The State contributed approximately $10,000,000 toward that project. The present commission has repaid part of that sum through the collections of tolls. By refinancing the project the new commission would be in position to pay off the remainder of what the state has coming to it from the bridge. In that event the governor could grant appropriations carrying many millions for the 1931-33 biennium that were not recommended when the budget was presented.

The bill authorizing the joint commission specifies that the money is to be repaid to the Commonwealth by July 1, 1932.

Actual functioning of the commission is contingent upon New Jersey's cooperation. The necessary legislation to make sure of that state's participation will be presented at a special session which has been called for this month.

State Employes, Slated To Lose Jobs, Still Work

Rumored Release Of 200 Employes In Department Of Revenue Fails To Materialize

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, June 17.—The middle of June has come and gone without the rumored wholesale orders for dismissal of Capitol Hill employes being issued. For weeks reports have been current around the State House that scores of workers would receive their notices on June 15 to the effect that their services were no longer necessary.

No such orders have been issued. It was reported that at least 200 workers in the Department of Revenue were scheduled to be dropped but these rumors could not be confirmed.

Since the legislature adjourned many local leaders have visited the governor's office for the purpose of securing patronage. The governor early in his administration announced on more than one occasion that patronage matters would have to wait until after the General Assembly had quit.

The lists of state employees have been closely scanned by those in authority. Some have been told to secure sponsors favorable to the administration or their "heads will fall". Some reports have it that no less than 1,100 are scheduled to be dropped.

Three Strikes In Pittsburgh Area

Pittsburgh Lays Claim To Being Striking Center Of Country

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 17.—If there is a more strike-ridden city in Pennsylvania than this one, let it step forward and claim that doubtful honor.

Pittsburgh being the center of the bituminous coal producing region of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, the strike of union coal miners naturally hogged the spotlight.

Then there was the strike of taxicab drivers, who either have walked out or been locked out so many times in the last 18 months that most Pittsburghers didn't remember whether this was the fifth or 15th strike.

The third major strike was that of the structural iron workers' union. Its members walked off their jobs on June 1, halting construction of such large building as the new home of the Gulf Refining Company, the Federal Reserve Bank building and the Mellon Institute buildings.

ship and greetings was enjoyed, with Mrs. Thomas A. Irwin of Franklin bringing greetings from Venango county, Mrs. J. O. Fruit the greetings from Mercer and Miss Belle Lowery from Butler county. Mrs. T. W. Phillips of Butler complimented the attendants at the home for the most delicious dinner and Mrs. Rose M. Sloan, matron of the home was eulogized by Mrs. J. L. The members of the newly organized Auxiliary Board were special guests and were seated at a table presided over by Mrs. H. L. Gordon, the chairman and at conclusion of dinner, Mrs. H. C. Harper most heartily welcomed the women into the Almira Home family of directors and said each woman had been chosen for her ability to carry on a splendid work, and as the older members of the board passed on, these younger women would step into the breach and continue with the magnificent work already begun.

Mrs. Gordon most graciously respended and said, although the women of her auxiliary board, were not yet aware of all the duties they were assuming, it was with a willingness and eagerness to learn, that they were taking their places.

Treasurer.

Dream Realized.

Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, who was chairman for the overseeing of the addition to the sun parlor, reported that as she was escorting some of the directors through the building last year, she commented that it was one of her dreams that the aged ladies on the second and third floors who were unable to go down stairs, should have a place, sunny and yet comfortable, where they could take their walks and enjoy talking with each other, and thought at some future time the subject of a sun parlor would be taken up, and much to her surprise, one of the women, Mrs. Celia Sibly Wilson of Franklin and New York, one of the women she had shown about, within a few days sent a check for $2,000 with which to realize this dream. Immediately things were set in motion and as the women met Monday, it was in this lovely, sunny, well furnished sun parlor that the meeting was held, and on account of Mrs. Wilson not being able to be present, a motion was made and carried that the board of directors send her greetings, which was done.

Mrs. W. A. Stritmater, who has been chairman of the committee for furnishing the parlor, then made a brief report and said it was with the aid of her most excellent committee that they had been able to accomplish the work of selecting rugs, furniture, drapes and all accessories to make the addition beautiful. She was highly commended for the work of herself and committee.

50 On Waiting List.

Mrs. George Balph, who had been appointed chairman of the committee for inquiring into building an annex to the home, reported the committee had done nothing, thinking the time inadvisable for taking up this proposition at this time.

Mrs. H. C. Harper, chairman of the inmate committee reported that there are 41 ladies now in the home there being two vacancies caused by death within the past few weeks, and these places will be immediately filled from the waiting list of 50 women.

The roll call of the counties was then made and Mercer county reported that donations of a barrel of fruit and $17 in money had been made: Butler county reported their barrel of fruit and $84 in money; from Sharon there had been sent fruit, $88 in money and 91 garments: from Venango county there was reported fruit, $290.50 in money and a bequest of $500 from the estate of Mrs. Harry Smith, which will be sent to the home in a short time.

Election Of Officers

Concluding the reports, the election was taken up and Mrs. J. L. Stratton was unanimously chosen president for the twelfth time. She thanked the board members most graciously for the honor again bestowed upon her. The other officers chosen were:

President emeritus—Mrs. J. W. Rice

Vice president—Mrs. H. C. Harper

Recording secretary—Mrs. B. F. Butler

Treasurer—Mrs. Carrie Agnew

Coresponding secretary—Mrs. C. E. Trainor

There was one vacancy to be filled in the board of Mercer county, this having been caused by the death of Mrs. Loretta Reed and at the suggestion of the board, Mrs. Irad Lewis of Grove City, her daughter, was recommended for the place. The other members of the Mercer county board include Mrs. J. S. Fruit, Mrs. Thomas Elliott, Mrs. W. B. Isenberg, Mrs. Jno. Haunah, Mary B. McDowell, Helen Reed of Sharon, Mrs. M. C. Zahniser, Grace Jackson and Mrs. Harvey Shaffer of Mercer and Mrs. E. T. Firth of Grove City.

The Butler County board includes Mrs. T. C. Campbell, Mrs. W. D. Brandon, Mrs. T. W. Phillips Jr., Miss Belle Lowery, Mrs. C. N. Boyd, Mrs. J. V. Ritts, of Butler, Mrs. S. O. Wright of Zelienople: Mrs. Jas. McConnell and Mrs. Heberling of Portersville and Mrs. S. L. Creeseman and Mrs. Glaspy of Slippery Rock.

The Venango directors includes: Mrs. S. H. Simpson, Mrs. W. R. Barr, Mrs. Percy Beers, Mrs. Myra Chickering, Mrs. W. W. Splain of Oil City, Mrs. W. H. Forbes, Mrs. Henry W. Lamberton, Mrs. O. D. Bleakley, Mrs. T. A. Irwin, Mrs. Thomas Alexander and Mrs. Sara C. Dana of Franklin.

The Lawrence county directors include: Mrs. A. S. Love, Mrs. George A. Rigby, Mrs. R. G. Maxwell, Mrs. W. A. Stritmater, Mrs. J. Howard Frew, Mrs. G. E. Harbison, Mrs. Geo. R. Balph and Mrs. Jemima Foster.

The Advisory Board includes Fred L. Rentz, Hon. George T. Weingartner, B. F. Butler, H. K. Gregory, Alex Crawford Hoyt and F. A. Hover.

A letter was read from John L. Hanna of the State Welfare department, saying they were most gratified with the report of the Almira Home, as brought back by Mrs. Dora B. Porter a field worker, who said the building was a most adequate one and the women were cared for in a manner that was most commendable.

The meeting adjourned with Mrs. Stratton advising the women to inspect the matron's quarters, which have recently been renovated and refurnished. She also appealed to any one who had a filing case that was not in use, that they donate it to the Home, in order that in the office there would be an adequate place for the storing of letters and papers relative to matters of the Home.

After a short prayer by Mrs. Thos. Elliott the women adjourned to meet again next June in annual session.

Judge Asks Road Supervisors To Lay Off Road Machines

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 17.—That township road supervisors and borough councils of Washington county "lay off" machines instead of laborers is the suggestion of the general emergency employment committee made in letters mailed today to supervisors and councils and signed by Judge Howard W. Hughes, general chairman of the committee. It is felt such a procedure can exert a distinctly beneficial effect on the present unemployment situation.

"You are planning some road work or public work of some other kind," the letter reads. "Why not lay off the machines instead of the men? It may cost you a little more this summer, but it will cost a lot less next winter.

Child Pretends She's Butterfly, Lands On Glass

JEANNETTE, Pa., June 17.—Constance Cartland, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cartland, was a "butterfly" in recent children's day exercises in the Presbyterian church. Last night she attempted to fly out of the window of her home, landed on a piece of glass and cut her foot so badly several stitches were required to close the wound.

Queenly Enough to Win

As the beautiful representative of one of the oldest families in California, Senorita Juanita Garfias, has been proposed as the logical nominee for the honor of queen of the fiesta with which Los Angeles will celebrate its 150th birthday. Senorita Garfias' ancestors came to Southern California while Fray Junipero Serra was still burning missions, but she doesn't have to depend on ancestry to look like a queen, does she?

BUTLER, Pa., June 17.—Carl Ross, 19, of Butler R. D. 1, was exonerated of all blame in connection with the death of George Victor Sprenkle, aged 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Sprenkle at a coroner's inquest held in the offices of Coroner William F. Pohl last night.

The only two witnesses called who saw the accident were Blanch and Louis Arblaster of Slippery Rock. Both testified that they were seeking a ride to Slippery Rock and that they saw Ross pass them and saw him proceeding north.

Doctor On Trial For Assaulting Wife

Mrs. E. H. McKinley Tells How Husband Struck Her With Pipe

(International News Service)

RIDGWAY, Pa., June 17.—Dr. E. H. McKinley, 27, of Altoona, went on trial here this morning in the special term of the Elk county court charged with assault and battery on his wife with intent to kill. The McKinleys resided near Kersey and are well known throughout this section.

Attorney Charles J. Margiotti of Punxsutawney, famed for the prosecution of Irene Schroeder, "blonde gun-woman," is associated with Attorney A. J. Straub in the defense.

Mrs. McKinley, a former trained nurse, was the first witness today. She told how, on August 18, 1930, under pretense of teaching her to drive their car, Dr. McKinley took her out a lonely road near Kersey. After ordering her to stop the car and putout the lights, she said, McKinley struck her with a gas pipe about 14 inches long. He declined to take her to the hospital, she said, asserting that he "wanted to kill her."

He finally relented and took her to a doctor's office, she declared, after she agreed to say nothing of the attack and he agreed to name a woman with whom he is alleged to have been intimate. They kept their promises until she confided with an aunt a few days later, it was disclosed.

New Jersey Man Demented; Kills Pair With Knife

Theodore Ferraccio, 29, Jailed After Butchering Of Man And Woman

CALMLY ADMITS CRIME TO POLICE

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., June 17.—Mrs. Katherine Fuchs, 70, and Frederick C. Glossklaus, 45, a son by her first marriage, were stabbed to death in their home here early today by Theodore Ferraccio, 29, a demented neighbor, according to police.

"They were devils and I had to kill them," Ferraccio calmly told police who were summoned by his brother, Carl.

Ferraccio, who had been committed twice to psychopathic wards of hospitals for observation, showed police a blood-stained hunting knife, with a six-inch blade, with which he said he had committed the murders.

Police said the prisoner told them he forced his way into the aged woman's house, plunged a knife into her throat as she slept and later slashed her son to death when he ran downstairs to investigate the noise. The son's head was nearly severed by a gash in the back of the neck, extending from one ear to the other, and he had been slashed about the abdomen and lower part of his body.

Ferraccio was arrested and charged with murder.

Al Capone Pleads Guilty; Will Get Federal Sentence

Federal Judge James Wilkerson, Will Sentence Capone On June 30

GANGSTER CHIEF IS VERY CALM

Capone Will Serve Two And One-Half Year Term For Federal Violations

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 17.—Al Capone on Tuesday pleaded guilty to charges of income tax and prohibition law violations.

He will be sentenced June 30 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson before whom he was arraigned. At that time, it was intimated, a sentence of two and one-half years in federal prison will be imposed.

Compromise Reached.

The gangster's plea and determination of his penalty resulted from a compromise between defense attorneys and the government, according to reports.

The charges to which Chicago's "public enemy No. 1" pleaded guilty were contained in two indictments returned this month by a federal grand jury. One indictment charged evasion of income tax payments, the other conspiracy with 68 co-defendants to violate the dry laws.

The arraignment of Capone, which took place before a curious throng representing every strata of society occupied not more than five minutes.

"Scarface Al" met his fate stoically.

"I plead guilty," he said without hesitation, replying to a question thrice put to him.

Fashionably Dressed.

Dressed in a light brown suit, the coat of which was belted in the back, brown and white shoes, a white shirt and collar, brown necktie, and carrying a sailor straw hat, Capone stood with head and shoulders slightly inclined before the prosecutors.

Assistant District Attorney Dwight H. Green first read the indictment charging violation of the income tax law in 1924. The dry law indictment was read by Assistant District Attorney Victor E. Larue. Finally, Green read the indictment charging tax violations in the year 1925 to 1929 inclusive.

Little To Say.

The so-called czar of gangdom pleaded guilty after the reading of each bill.

As he left the courtroom with his attorneys, Michel J. Ahern and Leopold B. Melnick, Capone had little to say.

"I wanted a continuance because my son is to be operated on soon," he explained. "I want to see that over with before I go to prison."

Further than that, he had no comment.

Poor Collections Are Alleged In Insurance Case

The case of the New Amsterdam Casualty company against Thomas F. Thornton, is still on trial before Judge Hildebrand in court today. Mr. Thornton in his own defense explained that he had been agent for some 13 insurance companies, and that the money collected in had been thrown into a common fund from which payments to the companies had been made. He claimed that the shortage to the New Amsterdam company on which suit was brought had been due to his inability to collect.

Several other agents, with numerous companies, also testified that it was the general practice to throw collections into one fund from which settlements to the different companies were made, and that it was not the practice to keep track of individual policies of the different companies separately. The case is still on trial.

Hospital Receives Appreciation Gift

West Side P. T. A. Sends Check To Jameson Memorial Hospital

Gifts are not always judged by their size. The spirit back of them sometimes speaks more than the size of the gift and the Jameson Memorial hospital has received one which has back of it a world of appreciation. It is a check for $25 received from the West Side Parents-Teachers Association, in appreciation of the work done by the hospital in removing tonsils from school children whose parents were unable to pay for the work.

During the past winter many tonsilectomies were done by the Jameson Memorial hospital upon such children. Nine of these cases originated in the West Side school. Appreciating the service and the splendid attention the youngsters received, the P. T. A. voted to send a check for $25 to the hospital, not as payment for service, but merely as a token of appreciation. The check was delivered to Dr. Wayne W. Bissell by Mrs. Chauncey Davis, vice president of the West Side P. T. A.

BABSON SAYS BUSINESS HAS REACHED UPTURN

NEW YORK, June 17—Economists scanning the economic horizon told the Advertising Federation of America today of their optimistic views of the future.

Roger Babson, whose prediction of the stock market crash in 1929 aroused widespread interest, asserted he was willing to stake his reputation that business has seen its worst: that although the change will be slow it will be in the right direction and that 'within a reasonable time the country will again enter into a period of marked prosperity."

Dr. Lewis H. Haney, director of the bureau of business research of New York University, cited seven reasons for his hope that the bottom of the business recession is not far distant. The first was that the country "has ceased to lisen at last about business and is now at last facing the facts."

Sir Charles Higham, British advertising expert, told the feredation that if the people of this country followed the ideas and ideals of President Hoover, the "sun would quickly break through the stormy horizon."

"In my humble opinion the real cause of world unrest and unemployment is the lack of faith of the peoples of the world in their political leaders and in God," he said.

League Leaders Praise Stimson

Secretary Stimson, Sends League Of Nations Note On War Strength

FRENCH CIRCLES ARE DISPLEASED

(International News Service)

GENEVA, June 17.—Directors of the League of Nations were today loud in their praise of Secretary of State Stimson's note giving details of the United States' military, naval and aerial strength.

They stated that it should set an example to other nations and result in substantial progress towards limitation of armaments at the forthcoming conference here.

French circles, however, expressed displeasure at the American secretary's introduction of the question of reserves, which had been left out of the league's original questionaire. They declared that the American note might serve to mislead public opinion.

"Secretary Stimson has avoided," said one Frenchman, "Reference to the considerable effort of the United States in the domain of military aviation during 1931."

"$kippy" ign for Film$

Putting his signature on the well-known dotted line, "Skippy," the precocious "Peter Pan" of the comic strip, gives another evidence of precocity in selling his inimitable pranks for the amusement of movie fans. A pledge to have children if "physically possible" is exacted of all young couples who desire to be married by Bishop Clinton S. Quin of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas, above, before he will consent to perform the ceremony. Other clergymen in Bishop Quin's diocese have followed his example but he has declared that such procedure is optional.

Nautilus at Sea Before She Stalled

Taken from the Coast Guard cutter, Pontchartrain, somewhere along the Atlantic coast, this picture shows the Wilkins submarine Nautilus as she pointed her nose towards Europe on the first leg of her trip to the North Pole. When nearly two thousand miles from the U. S., the Nautilus developed engine trouble and was taken in tow by the U. S. S. Wyoming and headed for Queenstown, Ireland. The waving sailors are wishing a bon voyage to the sub which they had escorted to Newfoundland.

Backs Governor on Jewsharp

Governor Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, is a happy man again, and with cause, for hasn't Frank Luther, popular radio tenor come to the rescue of the Executive with a declaration that there's only one way one to play a jewsharp correctly and that's "forwards"? You see the Governor has taken a violent dislike to anyone who would be so crude as to stroke the jewsharp toward the cheek instead of away from it, and he's found a worthy exponent of his beliefs in smiling Frank above. The right and wrong ways of jewsharping also are illustrated.

Friend of Starr

Rex Fairbanks (above), youthful Brooklyn, N. Y., millionaire and friend of Starr Faithfull, supposedly slain madcap heiress, has told authorities probing the mysterious case that Starr told him she hated men because "they're all sex-crazy." Meanwhile police are continuing their intensive search for clues in the strange case.

Seeks Governorship

Politically-minded Kentuckians declare that Mayor William B. Harrison of Louisville, will be the Republican nominee for governor, to run in November against Judge Ruby Laffoon, Democratic nominee. The G. O. P. standard-bearer is to be chosen in the party convention at Lexington on July 1.

Forges New Link

Irving, commanding the liner when interviewed in London. Starr's body was washed ashore at Lon Beach, L. I., under circumstances indicating murder.

Commercial Air Reserve Would Guard U.S. Skies

* * * * * *

Big Transport Planes Could Be Converted Into Bombers or Troop Carriers in 72 Hours for National Defense.

Although the United States Army Air Corps in May theoretically repulsed an invading "enemy," leaders in the aircraft industry feel that were it not for America's reserve strength as represented by civil aviation, the United States could not feel too optimistic about the result of an actual future conflict in the clouds. They point to the gigantic military air forces being created by other nations in contrast to that of the United States. As consolation, however, America today has more than 10,500 planes which could be converted into military units in little more than 72 hours, in the opinion of Captain Thomas B. Doe, West Point graduate, official of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of North America Aviation. Photos show an army airplane, a huge Condor bomber, and the big 21-passenger transport Condor, evolved from the military ship and now flown by Eastern Air Transport. Only a few hours' work would be required to attach bomb and machine gun racks to the passenger plane shown in lower photo.

May Solve Mystery

Believed to be in possession of information which may help in solving the mysterious death of beautiful Starr Faithfull, society girl of New York and Boston, whose body was washed up on the beach at Long Beach, L. I., G. Jameson Carr (above), ship's surgeon of the liner Franconia, now in England, will be questioned by the authorities investigating the mystery.

Wonder If He's Envious?

One can't help but wonder whether Jack Dempsey, turned promoter since his retirement from the ring, isn't a bit envious of Max Baer, with whom he is chatting at Reno, Nev., where Max and Paulino Uzcudun will swap punches at Dempsey's arena July 4. Jack looks pretty snappy in his double-breasted suit and straw hat, but it's quite possible he'd like to exchange them for the fighting togs of Baer.

Hailed in Opera

Grace Fisher (above), of Buffalo, N. Y., received unstinted praise from critics of the opera and newspapers when she made her brilliant debut as Nedda in Pagliacci at Milan, Italy. The American girl's acting was described as vibrant and interpertive as her remarkable voice. A highly successful career has been predicted for Miss Fisher by experts.

'Girl Was Drugged'

Starr Faithfull, pretty New York madcap heiress, was drugged before her death, according to Dr. Alexander O. Gettler (above), New York city toxicologist, who found a sufficient quantity of veronal in the girl's body to cause a stupor but not death. Dr. Gettler said that the girl must have been in at least a coma when her body entered the water, from which it was pulled at Long Beach, L. I., three days after she had disappeared from her home.

On Bounding Main

Pretty Bebe Daniels and her tall, handsome husband, Ben Lyon, are shown as they forsook the films for a trip on the bounding main to Honolulu via the Matson liner Malolo. The happy pair, photographed on shipboard at San Francisco, appear to be ready to enjoy a wonderful vacation. Here's luck.

S. H. McCrory (above), chief of the newly-created Federal Bureau of Agricultural Engineering which comes into existence as part of the Department of Agriculture July 1. McCrory, who has served more than 25 years with the department and is a veteran agricultural engineer, was named by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde to command the new unit.

The "Bam" Banishes the Blues

One of the reasons why Babe Ruth is regarded with hero-worshipping reverence by the youth of the country is made apparent by the above photo. It shows the mighty fence-buster autographing copies of his book, "How I Play Baseball," for the youngsters at the Hospital for Joint Diseases, at New York. It was a gala day for the kids who, though they are crippled and bed-ridden, know their baseball.

The Parent Problem

Imagine Embarrassment Of Awkward Adolescent Who Has Public Mishap

Dr. Myers Counsels Parents Never To Ridicule Or Scold In Public Girls And Boys Of 'Teen Age

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Boys and girls entering the teen age may be very awkward. They have grown rapidly and the co-ordination of their nervous system may have lagged behind. They are particularly sensitive to ridicule or disapproval in the presence of several persons.

Some children in the early adolescent age are quite aware of their own awkwardness; and when they have an accident, such as stumbling over obstacles, dropping or spilling things at the dinner table, the event itself nearly overwhelms them. To be scolded then or ridiculed for carelessness makes them more self-conscious and, therefore, more liable in the future to have similar accidents.

An occasional girl or boy at this age becomes the laughing stock of all the other members of the family. Then how he suffers! When his older or younger brothers or sisters ridicule him, they arouse him to rage; when his parents stoop and laugh at him, he is wounded by their lack of sympathy.

His parents are inclined also to scold him for carelessness. "Why don't you look? Why don't you watch what you are doing? Why aren't you more careful?" Such are the tongue-stabs which these children often get; and an occasional adolescent sufferer is almost slain by the poisoned thrust of the Scriptural two-edged sword branding him "the awkwardest kid in all the world."

In the first place we, as conscientious parents, want to help our children, not to hinder them; we want to aid them in acquiring poise and self-control, not to make it hard for them to do so; we want to assist them in building up self-confidence and to cultivate a more attractive personality, not to destroy what they have. We certainly do not want to be a nuisance to our children.

When, therefore, the adolescent youngster stumbles, spills things, or drops them we are going to be helpful by our self-control. We are going to show our sportsmanship by avoiding ridicule or censure. We are also going to see to it that no other child makes a remark to increase the embarrassment of the one who has met with the misfortune. Instead, we are going to assure him that such things could happen to anybody. Even if it is a choice dish which the child has broken, we are going to prove that we have been well bred, and that we have character. The value of the thing destroyed in an accident is, as a rule, beside the point, as you can clearly see.

If we are careful, sympathetic observers of the child, we shall know when certain types of accidents are most likely to occur. At such times we shall quietly make suggestions which will help prevent the accident. A skilful parent generally will know just when to offer necessary aid or to engineer a situation to avert disasters to perishable things and to the feelings of the child.

Let us think about these matters. Maybe we can be more helpful to our adolescent children and earn for curselves more of their affection and esteem.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally, write me, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Headache Commonest Human Ill

Treatment Depends On Causes, Clendening Opines

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Headache is one of the commonest of human complaints. This is not surprising considering all the things there are in the head to go wrong—complicated structures like the eye and the ear, ramifying surfaces to be infected like the nose and its sinuses, as well as nerves, muscles, tendons and bones. Most important of all the mechanical factors is the rigid immovable bony skull, containing a compressible organ like the brain and its surrounding fluid. If the fluid increases, or the brain begins to swell, there is no place for the swelling to expand—the bones of the skull have to give. The resulting tension inside the skull is bound to cause headache.

The treatment of headache, because of these complexities, is not simple. And it is by no means always successful. The consumption of headaches remedies is second only in volume to the consumption of cathartics. They usually give only temporary relief and thus have to be repeated and often lead to a dangerous drugging habit. This is especially true of headache powders which contain a drug called acetanilid, which when taken over long periods of time causes changes in the blood, the patient's lips and skin turning bluish, with other general bodily changes.

The object of every physician's investigation of a headache is to find the cause. A gentleman of my acquaintance who still clings to the doctrine of homeopathy occasionally argues with me on the subject and almost inevitably he brings up a headache remedy by which he lays great store. When in proclaiming the virtues of his homeopathic medicine he asks me what my treatment for headache is, I always answer, "It depends on the cause." This makes my homeopathic friend very angry but it must be evident that the treatment of a headache that comes from eyes that need glasses is very different from the treatment of a headache which comes from infected sinuses of the nose.

Besides mechanical or organic causes of headache there are a large number of chronic headaches for which we can find no actual bodily disease as a cause. These functional headaches (migraine) or other even more subtle things of the personality, such as the escape headache, the revenge headache, the conscientious headache, etc.

During the week we will discuss some of the common forms of headache.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

First step in the organization of the Young Women's Christian Association of this city was at a meeting held in the former Coliseum building on South Mill street, now but a memory due to its destruction by fire several years ago. This meeting was held October 18, 1907. A temporary organization was effected with Miss Carrie L. Jeffery as president, Mrs. T. A. Kimes as secretary and Mrs. I. B. Griffith as treasurer. At this meeting 220 persons pledged themselves to become members. At a later meeting a constitution was adopted and a board of directors elected with the following personnel: Mrs. I. B. Griffith, Mrs. J. C. Norris, Mrs. E A. Donnan, Mrs. A. M. Leohner, Mrs. George Greer, Mrs. E. I. Phillips, Mrs. J. D. F. Newell, Mrs. Edward Ward, Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry, Mrs. J. Q. Roberts, Mrs. W. J. Eroe, Mrs. Charles G. Long, Miss May White, Mrs. J. S. Martin and Miss Carrie L. Jeffery. The first permanent officers were: Mrs. J. S. Martin, president; Mrs. I. B. Griffith, first vice president; Mrs. George Greer, second vice president; Mrs. J. C. Norris, third vice president; Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry, fourth vice president; Miss Carrie L. Jeffery, secretary, and Mrs. A. M. Leohner, treasurer. The original board of trustees included Percy L. Craig, A. C. Dickinson, J. J. Dean, George Greer, M. S. Marquis, J. G. Nothdurft, T. W. Phillips, G. G. Stitzinger and P. J. Watson. Miss Grace L. Erhardt was the first secretary, being elected November 25, 1907, assuming charge January 1, 1908. In April, 1908, the rooms on the second floor of the Wood block on North Mill street were occupied and continued in use until the association changed to the present quarters in the former Y. M. C. A. building on the public square. It has grown in usefulness and importance to the community until it is now one of the most valued of public institutions in the city.

AN APPRECIATION

New Castle, Pa.
June 15, 1931.

The New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Mr. Rentz:

In the name of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah, I want to thank you most heartily for all the courtesy your paper has shown us and in the way you have handled the publicity of our organization.

We feel that you are helping us along in this great piece of humanitarian work.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. MORRIS HERSKOVITZ
Publicity Chairman.

Go free wheeling!
in Studebaker's famous
DICTATOR EIGHT

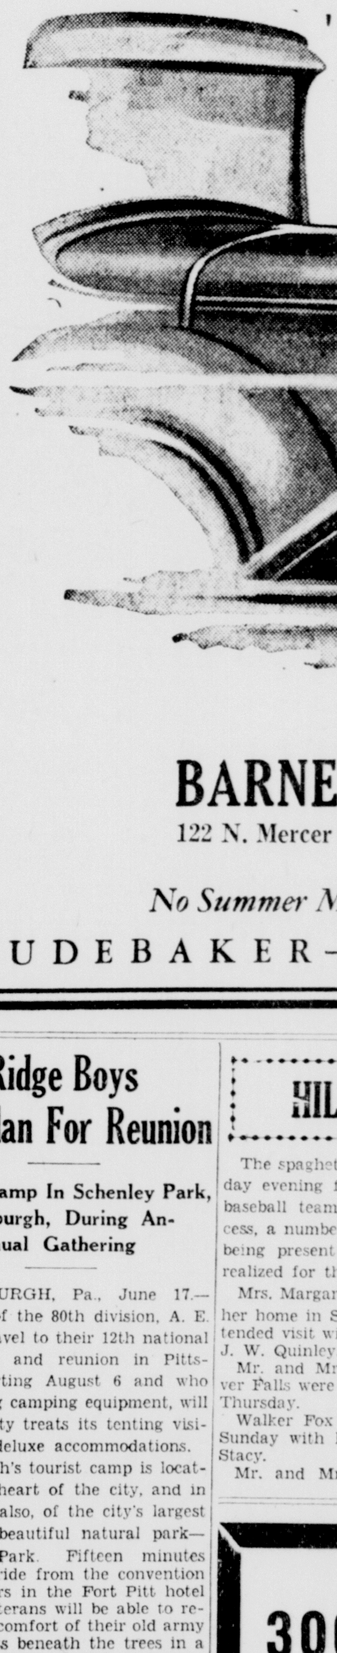

The Eight that gives you amazing smoothness proved by Torsiographic tests

THE thrill, delight, and welcome thrift of Free Wheeling are yours in all their meaning in Studebaker's famous Dictator.

The Dictator Eight gives you such fine car refinements as dual carburetion and manifolding, full-power exhaust muffling and carburetor silencing.

Powered by one of the most remarkable engines in the world, with a nine-bearing, no-vibration crankshaft, The Dictator puts 81 smooth and eager horsepower at your disposal.

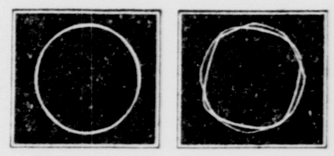

What a background for the latest and greatest Studebaker contribution to motoring—Free Wheeling with positive gear control!

The Dictator gives you thrilling speed, with the quiet, unhampered flight which Free Wheeling brings. You shift noiselessly at any pace, ignoring the clutch pedal entirely between second and high gears. You command every emergency, for the full braking power of your engine is instantly and always available. This is Free Wheeling with positive gear control and one shift lever instead of two. Traffic officials have hailed it as a distinct contribution to public safety.

You save money when you buy The Dictator and every mile you drive it. Free Wheeling gives you a 15% to 20% economy of gasoline and oil that has been proved by the sweeping triumph of two Free Wheeling Studebakers over 38 cars of 19 makes in the American Automobile Association national economy championship.

Go Free Wheeling, in this smoothest Eight of its price class. You will be convinced that The Dictator is the Eight for you.

"Rounded" Performance

The Torsiograph, one of the most nearly infallible of automotive laboratory instruments, records accurately the vibration of any rotating shaft. The closer the record chart approaches a true circle, the more nearly perfect the balance of the crankshaft. Above are shown the Torsiographic records of The Dictator Eight nine (9) bearing crankshaft and those of two other eights of double The Dictator's price. Notice the smooth roundness of The Dictator graph contrasted with the irregularity, or "humpiness" of the other two.

Blue Ridge Boys Plan For Reunion

Will Encamp In Schenley Park, Pittsburgh, During Annual Gathering

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 17.—Veterans of the 80th division, A. E. F., who travel to their 12th national convention and reunion in Pittsburgh starting August 6 and who bring along camping equipment, will find the city treats its tenting visitors with deluxe accommodations.

Pittsburgh's tourist camp is located in the heart of the city, and in the heart, also, of the city's largest and most beautiful natural park—Schenley Park. Fifteen minutes street car ride from the convention headquarters in the Fort Pitt hotel and the veterans will be able to retire to the comfort of their old army shelter tents beneath the trees in a woodland grove as cool and quiet as any in the Canadian woods and probably much quieter than they experienced in the Argonne woods.

The 80th division veterans who were among the first to make arrangements to attend the reunion and who have been present at all of the previous 11 national conventions of the 80th, are Howard Wells of Petersburg, Va., and Frank Schoble, Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa. Both men lost their sight in battle while serving with the 80th. Each has served a term as commander of the 80th Division association. Schoble was also elected in 1929 as one of the national vice-commanders of the American Legion.

Large Crowd At Mushball Games Played By Girls

Glen Avenue Girls And South Side Girls Play At Circle Field

ELLWOOD CITY, June 17.—Girl's mushball games are quite an attraction here, as shown by the large crowd that witnessed the hard struggle between the Glen Avenue Girls and South Side last night on the Circle school field. The game was deadlocked in the seventh inning and two more were played, hoping that it would be broke. It was all to no avail. After a supreme struggle by both teams the game was called on account of darkness and was still deadlocked at 27 all.

The girls still only have the essential rudiments of the game, but nevertheless they have a good time. There was some real scoring in this game. In order to come from behind there would be from 6 to 9 runs scored when one team was batting.

Mae Catarcio, Helen Carselle, and Tessie Gretch saved the day for the Glen Avenue Girls. The former had come to the fold just in time. The score had been 10-6 for South Side when she hit a circuit blow with three on base. Miss Carselle repeated her feat with two on base. Nine runs were scored by the Glen Avenue Girls at this time to make the game more interesting at 16-15 still in favor of South Side.

A spurt in the first of the seventh frame saved South Side from defeat. They scored 6 runs to tie the score. They held their opponents scoreless.

Miss Lordo, South Side's pitcher was easily their outstanding player. She contributed three triples which scored heavily for her team. She also played a nice game.

A play off contest will be played some time this week.

Those present took this opportunity to present Mrs. Mook with a beautiful fountain pen. Mrs. Mook expressed her gratitude for this honor in a few well chosen words.

Mrs. Harry Ayres, Mrs. Mary Henry, and Mrs. Myrtle Moon served a delictable menu as the concluding event of the evening.

Acquitted Beauty Back Home

Glad to set foot on her native shores again, Mrs. Charlotte Nixon-Nirdlinger, who was acquitted by a French jury after she shot and killed her husband in their villa at Nice, is shown upon her arrival in New York aboard the S. S. Roma. Insert shows the former St. Louis beauty pageant winner kissing her son Fred, named after his slain father, as she returned to the U. S. with her mother and two children to take a "rest and forget." Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger was acquitted on the plea that she was "too beautiful to be bad."

Rotarians Will See Experiments

Dr. Paul C. Saunders, Of Alfred University, To Show Use Of Liquid Air

ELLWOOD CITY, June 17.—A most interesting program has been arranged for the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday evening in the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Paul C. Saunders, professor of chemistry in Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., will give a demonstration o fthe uses of liquid air. Prof. Saunders will perform about 50 experiments with his own equipment, and if the demonstration is of the type held in the Lincoln School a few years ago the Rotarians are going to witness some almost unbelievable things.

A hammer can be made out of liquid air and ice that will pound a big nail into a board without dinging the hammer. One of the baffling experiments performed at Lincoln school was the frying of pork-chops on a cake of ice with the aid of liquid air. A light that is stronger than sunlight can be made with its aid. Liquid air has a tendency to make one expand if taken internally.

A nice field was found where the two societies engaged in a game of soccer with the home team winning. A FEW SURVIVORS FOUND TEMPORARY REFUGE IN THE CABIN, WHILE THE SAVAGES PLUNDERED THE HOLD. THE NEXT DAY THE REMAINING WHITE MEN, HARD-PRESSED AND WITH ALL HOPE GONE, BLEW UP THE SHIP, DESTROYING THEMSELVES AND SCORES OF THEIR ASSAILANTS. . . . .

All-Local Bouts Being Arranged

Twenty Five Glove Tossers Want To Strut Ability Here

MAY STAGE BOXING CARNIVAL JUNE 26

Plans hatched several weeks ago for an all-local boxers carnival progressed considerably last night when 25 glove tossers requested Ed. Fritz, matchmaker for the Castle Bowl, to give them a chance to strut their stuff Friday night, June 26. The bouts will be conducted along the California four-round system, and it is believed that at least seven bouts, crammed with action, will result.

It is generally acknowledged that the preliminary boys furnish the real action in every boxing show because they are trying to get somewhere, and when the bouts are finally announced it will be seen, according to the matchmaker, that every effort has been made to use local boys. Only where a difference of weight and ability crop forth will out-of-town battlers be signed.

The boxers who requested to appear in the all-local carnival with their weight, color, experience and manager, follow:

Billy Mido, 118, white, one bout, Battling Terry.

Ray Ritchie, 124, white, two bouts, Bob Latera.

Joe Di Muccio, 125, white, two bouts, Arch Cumo.

Willie Stribling, 133, colored, one bout, Smith & Dygert.

Oliver Pollard, 134, colored, one bout, Arch Cumo.

Walter West, 135, white, two bouts, Battling Terry.

Robert Sheen, 135, white, no bouts, Smith & Dygert.

Vito Mangine, 135, white, one bout, Joe Ritchie.

Jimmy Scott, 135, colored, 10 bouts, Jimmy Dime.

Johnny Banko, 135, white, two bouts, Bob Latera.

Billy Joyce, 138, white, no bouts, Jimmy Dime.

Billy Frengel, 142, white, two bouts, Arch Cumo.

Lloyd Green, 142, white, no bouts, Arch Cumo.

Kid Wright, 143, colored, no bouts, Smith & Dygert.

Elmer Badger, 148, white, seven bouts, Smith & Dygert.

George Fisher, 148, no bouts, Jimmy Dime.

Frankie Frey, 155, white, six bouts, Battling Terry.

Joe Midway, 158, white, 15 bouts, Jimmy Dime.

Joe Testa, 158, one bout, Arch Cumo.

Merle Gibson, 160, white, two bouts, Arch Cumo.

Homer Gray, 162, colored, three bouts, Smith & Dygert.

Bill Donnelli, 163, colored, no bouts, Arch Cumo.

Morrie Suber, 175, white, one bout, Joe Ritchie.

Warren Farrow, 185, colored, 20 bouts, Arch Cumo.

Jack Valinich, 190, white, one bout, Jimmie Dime.

According to the weights and experience cards which may be made up for the four-round glove whirl, may bring probable matches as follows:

Joe Ritchie vs. Young DiMuccio, at 124 pounds.

Walter West vs. Young Mangine, at 135 pounds.

Willie Stribling vs. Oliver Pollard, at 133 pounds.

Homer Gray vs. Bill Donnelli, at 163 pounds.

Frankie Frey vs. Joe Midway, at 158 pounds.

Jimmy Scott vs. Frankie Stelmack (Cleveland, as Scott ranks ahead of all the lightweights here excepting Paris Cangey.)

Merle Gibson vs. Frankie Frey, at 158 or 160 pounds.

Warren Farrow vs. Jack Valiensi, heavyweights.

It is not known if Joe Midway could get in real condition in such short notice, hence the probability of Merle Gibson tackling Frey. Before Farrow and Valenich are matched both will be seen in action so there will be no disparity in experience, as Valenich has been tutored to a nicety by the veteran Jimmy Dime. Until recently Farrow did not take his fighting seriously.

So far there have been no entries from the surrounding towns, but now that the date has been set it is probable Ellwood City will unfurl several prospects and some may come from Harlansburg, Mt. Jackson and other rural towns.

Fix Date For League Battle

The Lawrence County Commissioners have ruled that the 7-7 tie game between the Universal Pottery and Scarazzo Coals, be played Friday night June 19, at 6:30 o'clock instead of Monday June 22 which date was previously fixed. The teams will report for the game Friday night.

Here And There In Sports' Land

GYMNASIUMS in all sections of the city are resounding with punches landed on bags and fighters are "burning up" the roads getting into condition for the All-Local Boxers carnival here June 26. No bout will go more than four rounds and there ought to be plenty of action.

Mushball Teams To Play Benefit

East Side Service And Shenango Tin Have Double Header For Thursday Night

Through the cooperation of Robert Clark of the East Side Service, Arnold "Fiz" Fraser of the Tin Mill, and "Sid" Lockley of the Lockley Machines, the East Side Service and Tin Mill teams will stage a double-header exhibition game at the Lehigh field on Thursday night for Matt Honkonen, the youth who broke his left leg or Monday night.

The Lockleys and Cancos will switch their game to the Washington Field allowing the benefit game to be played at Lehigh, and this is an act of sportsmanship on the part of the Lockleys. Hudson will handle the Lockley-Canco game at Washington, and Price is assigned the double-header benefit game.

Honkonen will be laid up for some time, and his buddies on the East Side Service team will play a series of benefit games for him. In event of good weather a big turnout is expected.

Senators Are Making Fight

Washington Senators Are Slowly Overtaking Strong Athletic Team

CARDINALS TOP PHILLIES 2 TO 1

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 17.—Whether or not the Washington Senators are successful in their game effort to overhaul the flying Athletics, they have furnished plenty of evidence during the past two weeks that they possess the ability to come from behind and win, the trust criterion of class.

Washington's chances of extending its winning streak of ten games looked mighty slim yesterday when the club was trailing the St. Louis Browns by seven runs in the fourth inning, but the Nats were equal to the emergency. They kept pecking away at the Brownie hurlers and finished like Twenty Grand with a four-run rally in the ninth which netted an 11 to 10 triumph. A triple by Dave Harris, who has been subbing for the veteran Sam Rice, was the highlight of the rally.

The Senators' eleventh straight win put them only 2½ games behind the Athletics.

Cubs Beat Braves

Chicago's Cubs also did some fancy stretch running by spotting the Boston Braves to a seven-run lead and then pulling the game out of the fire by an 8 to 7 count. Hemsley's double scored the winning run, while Hack Wilson chipped in with a home run.

The Cubs won nine games and dropped six during their home stay. The Giants did almost as well, winning eight out of fourteen in the West. Yesterday Fred Fitzsimmons exerted his usual mastery over the Cincinnati Reds, winning 6 to 1 and giving the McGraw men a clean sweep of the series. A double by Leach with the bases full in the sixth inning practically ruined the afternoon for Young Silas Johnson, mound star of the Reds.

The Cardinals and Phillies played a game of "home run or no count," all three runs being homers. Chuck Klein, the home run king, nicked Burleigh Grimes for his seventeenth four-bagger of the year in the first inning. Thereafter no runner dented the plate until the ninth when Watkins and Frisch put balls out of the park in quick succession off Ray Benge to give the Cards a 2 to 1 verdict.

Other teams were idle.

Keep Feet Close If Your Putting Needs Improving

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer

NUMBER 31

The world's greatest putters have been those who keep their feet well together and hands well into the body.

If nothing else, this serves to take any strain off the muscles and leaves the putting stroke to smooth control.

Never hit the putt, swing the club through in a swinging fashion if you would keep it well on its way to the cup.

Jerry Travers was and is still considered, regardless of Jones, the greatest putter the game has ever seen. Jones' putting stance and stroke is built on Travers' form.

Travers had one knack of putting which the professionals and star amateurs of today have probably forgotten and that was to put the hands a bit ahead of the ball.

Such a stance enables the player to hit a bit down on the ball which keeps the ball in a straight line.

In taking a vertical stance with the club the player generally gets into the ball a bit late or too soon. This causes the ball to slice or to hook.

If you would putt successfully play the stroke with a smooth slow backswing and let the club carry through the ball.

Poreda-Rocco Clash Tonight

Heavyweights Feature Card Filled With Six Round Bouts

Stanley Poreda of Jersey City, reputed to be one of the best prospects in the heavyweights division will make his debut in the Tristate section tonight when he tackles Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City. The bout tops a card of six round bouts being staged by Charley Marotta.

Poreda is a colorful youngster, who in the past few months, has broken into the heavyweight picture. He is a Polish-American, 22 years old and has but two years experience. His most notable triumph came when he gave Johnny Risko a drubbing in New York.

Rocco is a familiar figure in Cleveland fight life having fought Johnny Risko twice, in which he received an even break. Mose Boquillion and Tom Kirby. Recently Rocco broke even in a brace of fights with King Levinsky, winning at Pittsburgh but losing in Chicago.

Should Poreda beat Rocco tonight he will be on the Stribling-Schmeling card, according to a letter received by Manager Joe Alexander.

Naval Crew Is Regatta Winner

Navy Academy Crew Takes Annual Intercollegiate Rowing Title

NEW RECORD SET BY HUSKY CREW

By BILL CORUM
International News Service Sports Writer

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 17—For the water take a sailor every time.

While the "experts" foundered on a rain-pelted Hudson last evening, a despised and half-forgotten Navy crew came slugging out of the murk to win the 34th annual intercollegiate rowing regatta in the third fastest time in the long history of this famous four-mile course.

Cornell Second

With close to 50,00 thoroughly drenched and thoroughly amazed spectators looking on from observation train, boat, and dark green highlands shore, old Dick Glendon's surprising Midshipmen from the banks of the Severn took the lead from the pace-setting Washington crew at the three-mile mark and went on to stand off a fast-closing Cornell crew in the final drive.

The Sailors' time, 18 minutes, 54 1-5 seconds, has been bettered only by California's world's record in 1928 an done of Pop Courtney's fabled Cornell crews in 1901, which isn't bad for a boat which scarcely had been accorded a chance in the pre-race dope.

A favorite and highly-touted Cornell eight, which possibly delayed its bid just too long but more likely wasn't quite good enough as the race was rowed, finished second behind the gallant Middies.

The Fallen Mastodon

Still down a very much out was Pat Redmond, huge Irish fighter, when this picture was snapped a moment after Primo Carnera, Italian giant, landed flush on his opponent's lantern jaw just two minutes and twenty-four seconds after their bout began at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn. Thirty thousand jammed the field to see the two mastodons go through their ponderous rites, but their show turned out to be short and anything but sweet for Pat. Primo is shown standing over his crumpled-up victim.

Ball Yard Banter

By Central Press

Sometimes—not always—a pitcher, the constant victim of an enemy club, turns tables on the other fellows and is their jinx. That's the current story of Larry French, Pittsburgh hurler. Last season the New York Giants were pyorrhea to Larry—beating him four times out of five. This year French defeated the McGrawmen in the two times he has faced them.

Strange things happen in baseball. The once despised Braves are a thorn in the side of the Cards and the lowly Reds have all but crucified the Robins.

The Giants did the right thing by Pete Donohue. When he was slated for shipment elsewhere, it was discovered he was just a week short of being a 10-year major league man. Clubs are forced to give 10-year men their unconditional release when they wish waivers on them. So the Giants gave Pete his freedom and now he's with the Indians.

* * *

Pitcher Andy Bednar, released by the Pirates to Fort Worth Texas league club, can be recalled within a two-day period.

MORGAN & BURROWS MOTOR CO.

With the international sporting battles now in the thick of their season it might be well to check up to see just what progress Uncle Sam has made in acquiring, retaining and losing international sporting crowns and what are his prospects for the immediate future.

This is what might be termed an off summer in international muscular activity, there being no America's cup races. Olympic games, international polo matches to become excited over.

However, a fair number of world's championship events are being run off this year and it looks as though Uncle Sam will get more than his share.

The British open title, thanks to Tommy Armour, was retained by American hands though British diehards claim it was won by Great Britain, since Tommy is a native Scot and at birth owed allegiance to the Union Jack. However, the cup will repose on this side of the Atlantic until next summer.

The British open would rank as Uncle Sam's most important international victory so far if it weren't for the fact that Armour's win wasn't exactly a 100 per cent Yankee triumph.

However, the tennis youths who polished off all international competition in the American zone Davis cup matches were all native-born Americans, so you'll have to give your Uncle full credit for this one.

The international 500-mile speedway race was again won by an American—Louis Schneider, the Hoosier ex-cop. But this was a hollow international victory since there were no alien entries in the big grind, a rare occurrence, but it happened that way this year.

Two American failures in sporting events this season were Uncle Sam's vain efforts to retain the British amateur golf title and cop the British ladies' link championship.

George Voight and his litte band of Yankee amateurs failed to make the grade in the battle with England's simon pures. Miss Maureen Orcutt got pretty far in the ladies' event, but not quite far enough.

International struggles not decided are the American open golf tournament, the Ryder cup matches, the Davis cup tennis finals, the international transatlantic yacht race, the international marathon swim and the world's heavyweight championship.

The United States should cop the national open and the transatlantic race by sheer force of numbers if not skill. Only a small group of foreigners will appear at Inverness in the open meet while American yachts outnumber the British in the transatlantic race eight to one.

The United States has about an even chance in the marathon swim, Ryder matches and the heavyweight fight (opinion subject to change without notice) but little chance to win the Davis cup finals.

As for that heavyweight fight—kindly see later editions of this paper for full particulars.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Market Favorites Sell Slightly Higher

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 17.—After an irregular opening, in which gains and losses were well distributed over the active list, the stock market firmed up this morning and many of the favorites sold slightly above Tuesday's closing levels. The market paid little or no attention to the filing of the Raidroads' petition with the commerce commission for a 15 per cent increase in rates and was equally indifferent to a new 2 per cent shrinkage in steel production, which brings the current operating rate of the industry as a whole to 38 per cent of mill capacity.

Westinghouse settled back to 57½ in the first period, but rallied to above 58. United States Steel sold in fairly good volume at 90, but Bethlehem Steel was under pressure and lost more than a point at 41¾. General Electric, United Corporation, Chrysler Motors and a small number of yesterday's bull leaders made only a feeble effort to continue their advance.

Parcel Post Exporters Do Extensive Business

Despite Hard Times, Parcel Post Exporters Show $20,510,000 Business

Slight Falling Off From Last Year—Profitable Foreign Outlets

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 17.—American business men conducted an extensive export business through the medium of parcel post during 1930, although business conditions thruout the world considerably curtailed its value as compared with 1929, the commerce department announced today.

Total parcel post shipments to foreign markets in packages valued at $25 or over aggregated $20,510,000, a drop of about $6,000,000 from the year before.

Profitable Outlets.

"Statistics are indicative that many inland manufacturers of articles which lend themselves to exportation by mail are finding profitable foreign outlets for their products, since many of the packages included in these shipments originated in cities removed from the seaboard," said William L. Cooper, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

"As these statistics included only commercial shipments valued at $25 or over, addressed to dealers, excluding large quantities of packages of lesser value, shipments direct to customers, and non-commercial packages sent by private parties, they are incomplete as regards the total value of merchandise shipped abroad by parcel post during the year."

Women Buy Hosiery.

Foreign women are large buyers of American silk hosiery, although their purchases like those of others, were considerably curtailed as the result of international hard times. Silk hosiery formed the largest single item of parcel export, the $223,699 dozen pairs sent abroad last year having been valued at $2,305,900.

Only two items of parcel post export showed gains in value last year as compared with 1929, scientific and professional instruments, apparatus and supplies, valued at $1,799,900, a gain of about $110,000 and electrical machinery and apparatus valued at $412,175, an increase of $10,000.

America is building a substantial market for both scientific instruments and electrical apparatus.

Among other important articles exported by mail were fountain pens, jewelry, safety-razor blades, boots and shoes, photographic and projection goods, broad silks, hats and caps, wool manufacturers, rubber manufacturers, optical goods, medicinal and pharmaceutical goods and watches and parts.

Methodist Episcopal Conference Is Being Held In Carlisle, Pa.

(International News Service)

CARLISLE, Pa., June, 17.—Memorial services for members who died during the year will be held here today at the 63rd annual Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodists Episcopal Church, and two coaching conferences will be held this afternoon.

Increase in membership featured the presentation of reports by District superintendents of the conference. The Rev. Dr. J. E. Lions Hear Of Hoosier Poet

"James Whitcomb Riley—the Hoosier Poet" was Arthur McArthur's subject for his address before the city's Kiwanis club in the Elks dining room early this afternoon. McArthur, a resident of Traverse City, Mich., was for 20 years or more an intimate friend of the "children's poet".

Before Mr. McArthur's talk, the Kiwanians formally apporved plans for a joint meeting of the Rotary, Lions and their club on next Monday, when a fitting testimonial affair will be tendered to Lawrence county's state senator and assemblymen.

Ellwood City Man Victim Of Hold-Up With Hypodermic

PITTSBURGH, June 17.— Two men were to be questioned by police today in connection with the second case within a week of a robbery executed after the motorists victim had been rendered unconscious by the injection of a "strychnine solution" with a hypodermic needle.

The men held by police here are Thomas Stepniak, 31, of Niagara Falls, and Albert Fanti, Herbert Way, Hazelwood. The asserted victim was a war time buddy of Stepniak, Jack Hudsbath, 32, of Ellwood City. Police said the men had accompanied Hudsbath to New York in search of work.

Enroute from Niagara Falls to Ellwood City, Hudsbath said he felt a sting in his back and a moment later lost consciousness. He told police he faintly remembered being lifted from the machine. Hudsbath's car was found in Fanti's possession, police aver.

Less than a week ago a traveling salesman was accorded similar treatment by two hitchhikers whom he had picked up. He was left to wander in the street while the two thieves stole his automobile and over $100 in cash.

Ellwood City authorities were to question Stepniak and Fanti today. Hudsbath, being held in the Ellwood City jail, will be brought here to face the suspects if his condition permits physicians said. The doctors expressed themselves as puzzled with Hudsbath's ailment. They said they were unable to find any mark such as a hypodermic needle would leave, nor could they detect any trace of strychnine poisoning.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

If only one person had seen it, perhaps it never was there. But a lot of folks saw it, and you can believe it or not. This was a deer—a doe to be more specific—which made its appearance on a hill out back of the Butler road last night just at dusk. It may have been just a visiting fireman of the deer family or it may have been a pioneer doe that was trekking west. Anyway there it was.

Had a rather unusual list of calls to make yesterday afternoon. Visited the County Home, the Almira Home and the Jameson Memorial hospital. All of them are well kept buildings with well handled management.

The County Home is a place few visitors get to, and yet there isn't a better kept institution in the county. It's always clean, and the grounds surrounding the building look like the estate of some retired button hook tycoon.

After looking at the berry crop out there, it seems reasonable to believe that the price of blackberries and raspberries are going to be down this season where a fellow can afford to take a second helping. This warm, wet weather is just what the doctor ordered for berries and if you like berry preserves, or berry pie, or berry popovers, get set now.

And another thing, the new gate at the municipal golf course is a doozer. After looking at it, you know that some engineer designed it. Looks like the insignia of the engineer corps come to life. Made of boulders cemented with black cement and marks the entrance to the muny in a dignified way.

This is the one day in the year that New Bedford struts. The annual flower show in the town hall and if you have time it will be well worth your while to run out and see the posies. Culture and esthetic beauty and all that sort of thing get a heavy play in Bedford, and the flower show is just one of their many activities.

What a bust that tinseled hero of the underworld, Al Capone, turned out to be. Like any other yegg, he stood up before the court in Chicago and pleaded guilty to charges that could get him some 32 years in the clink if he got all the penalty.

And all of it would be a trifle short of what it should be. For the past ten years the Scarface has turned a ritzy snoot at the law, laughed at the enforcement officers and gotten away with everything in the book if the reports are all true. Now the Federal government has him by the Achilles tendon and if a stretch does nothing more than get him off the front page it will be worth a lot

You know it's summer. Wes Davy is already mumbling in his whiskers about his annual trip to Canada, and mentioning the hairy fish up around Nova Scotia. All of which proves that summer is here.

By the calendar, the first day of summer will be Sunday. And by the same calendar, same page, it will be the longest day in the year.

Money Available For Construction On State Projects

Close To Ten Million Dollars Is Now At Hand For Building Program

(From News Bureau) (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, June 17.—With more than $9,600,000 available for construction the Department of Property and Supplies can speed up its building program in order that operations can be started before fall. Until the governor had acted finally on the measure the department was unable to get any of the preliminary work under way.

At most institutions plans must be prepared by the architects before bids can be asked on construction projects. In many instances, however, the boards of trustees and the various state departments effected have a general idea what buildings are needed.

Before bids can be asked detailed plans on the various buildings must be prepared by the architects. That will require time in addition to the three weeks necessary for advertising for bids.

It is unlikely that any major projects could be started before early September. As in other years, most of the state construction will probably come the year following a legislative session.
